

MEMORANDUM FOR SEE DISTRIBUTION

SUBJECT: Training Requirements for Aircraft Survivability Equipment Trainer - Aircrew Training (ASET-AT)

1. Some confusion exists as to the requirements for individuals to complete Aircraft Survivability Equipment Training. The ASET-II program has become antiquated and required replacement to provide a training value. The replacement of ASET-II was completed as follows:

a. The unclassified portion of the ASET-II replacement is ASET-Aircrew Training (ASET-ATv1.0). This software package has been developed and released in two stages. The first release, interim version 0.2, was distributed last year. That module trained 90% of the fielded ASE systems on our tactical aircraft: AN/APR-39A(V)1, AN/AVR-2/2A, AN/ALQ-144A, AN/ALQ-136, and M-130. This release, version 1.0, contains all modules previously trained by the ASET-II in an unclassified format. ASET-AT trains aircrews on the operations and employment of ASE systems.

b. The classified portion of ASET-II replacement is Army EW Threat (AEWT) v1.0 and Air Force Tactics, Techniques, and Procedures (AFTTP) 3-1, volume 2, Threat and Countermeasures. Each is on CD-ROM media. The Classified AEWT and AFTTP are now available and must be requested via e-mail to the POC listed below. Units must accredit computers to be operated with classified software in accordance with AR 380-19 and local regulations. AEWT trains aircrews on threats and ASE indications. AFTTP provides aircrews the classified threat parameters necessary to plan and execute missions in a hostile environment. AFTTP is updated and released every six months.

c. An additional CD, Recognition Of Combat Vehicles (ROC-V) was included in the unit distribution to assist units with thermal and visual target identification. It is a tool to assist the unit but is not a mandatory portion of the program.

2. Implementing the ASET-AT will satisfy all current requirements for AR 95-1, TC 1-210, and other regulatory requirements. A change to TC 1-210 has been submitted to support this program. Implementation of ASET-ATv.21 was required by 1 October 1999. The following are the ASET-AT requirements:

a. ASE/EW Training Program Requirements. Commanders will establish, in writing, an ASE/EW training program that reinforces the skills of the individual, crew and unit. The program must provide training that realistically reflects the full spectrum of electronic warfare, based on expected areas of deployment. Training program will include provisions for training Individual, Crew/Team, and Collective tasks.

b. Aircraft Survivability Equipment Trainer - Aircrew Trainer (ASET-AT) (Individual). ASET-AT is Interactive Multimedia Instruction (IMI) (both interim and final release software) replacing the antiquated ASET-II Interactive Courseware. ASET-AT trains the individual tasks crew members must perform to effectively operate ASE, accurately interpret equipment indications, and efficiently employ the correct tactics and countermeasures to defeat or avoid the threat while accomplishing the mission. ASET-AT consists of two sections: ASET-AT Unclassified and Army EW Threat Classified instruction.

(1) Annual ASET-AT Requirements for RCMs. RCMs will complete the Unclassified training for each installed ASE system on their primary aircraft annually. If assigned to a unit without ASE, minimum annual ASET-AT for all RCMs consists of the ASET-AT Unclassified AN/APR-39A(V)1 module (tutorial and test) and IFF tutorial. The commander will determine which additional ASET-AT Unclassified modules and Army EW Threat Classified modules are required for each RCM for each FAC level. Completion of Annual ASET-AT training will be aligned with the RCM APART.

(2) Annual ASET-AT Requirements for NCMs. The commander may also specify training requirements for NCMs.

3. Your unit is authorized to make as many copies of the unclassified ASET-AT CD-ROM as necessary. The software may be utilized on any PC with a Windows 95/98/NT operating system. Upon implementing the ASET-AT program, you are required to locally destroy the old ASET-II software using any approved procedure for the level of classification of the software and turn-in the EIDS computer hardware to your local Defense Reutilization Management Office (DRMO) for removal from the Army inventory.

4. The POC for this action is CW4 Maes, SIMD, DOTDS, Fort Rucker, AL 36362, DSN 558-1872, COMM (334) 255-1872, Email: maesa@rucker.army.mil.
